

Parkside

Ireland's leading Hygiene specialists

Parkside Ireland offers the full range of cleaning products to maintain the highest standard of hygiene on your premises. We work with your staff to apply best practices in all areas ensuring your staff, residents, patients and visitors are all confident in the standards within your premises. Our team is highly experienced across all sectors from Nursing Homes, Hospitals, Schools and Food Retail and is fully abreast of hygiene regulations. We provide full training for all staff members, cleaning and disinfecting procedures, product specifications and data information are supplied for all products.

Our team is highly experienced across all sectors from Nursing Homes, Hospitals, Schools and Food Retail and is fully abreast of hygiene regulations.

www.parksideirl.com

Bathrooms

Bathrooms are not only areas that need to be clean and mal-odour free, but are also kept free from germs, as they are potential hotbeds of faecal contamination. Bathroom surfaces such as, toilet seats (and flushes), taps and door handles are key areas where harmful bacteria and viruses can contaminate hands and thus potentially spread disease. In addition to chemical products, we supply alcohol wipes to sanitise hands. Apart from the positive cosmetic appearance of a clean bathroom, Our range of chemical bathroom products focus on trying to limit the chance of cross contamination in this area.

Laundry

We are experts in On Premises Laundry. Utilising the Parkside range of liquid detergents, laundries can drastically reduce re-wash rates, get better stain removal results and therefore in turn achieve lower wash costs.

Kitchen Area

Parkside supply an extensive range of powerful detergents and sanitisers that allow catering/cleaning staff to combat stubborn soils effectively whilst at the same time providing peace of mind that food poisoning bacteria are being reduced to safe levels following methodical and regular clean down practices.

Floor Care

Many of the problems associated with poor floor care results are due to inadequate preparation of the floor surface, chemical residues left from previous cleaning operations, poor ventilation, lack of time and poor planning or indeed the incorrect choice of product for the surface in question. We provide a composite range of hard and soft floor treatments. This range of products, hard floor treatments and cleaners when combined with the appropriate machinery and equipment will result in outstanding visual and durability results. We also try to strip out the myths surrounding floor care. The combination of on-site advice complimented with robust formulations will provide a master class finish on carpets and most hard flooring types.

Hand Hygiene

In healthcare premises, it is of paramount importance that all staff maintains clean and hygienic hands during their daily work, to reduce the risk of potential cross contamination. Parkside provide a range of hand soaps, hand sanitisers and foam hand cleaners .

Dish and Glass Washing

This is the highest volume category of products that we manufacture. When you buy these products you are not buying chemicals, you are buying clean plates, cutlery, crockery and glassware. From cabinet glass washing in the licensed trade to tunnel machines in the In-flight catering sector, these core detergents will ensure all items of ware washing are cleaned to pristine standards.

Housekeeping

Cleaning public areas, whether it is a resident bedroom, a communal area or corridor is primarily focused on making sure the "visitor experience" is a positive one. Visitor first impressions count and our range of cleaners, polishes products allow domestic cleaners to be able to clean effectively and to enhance that positive image.

Differing water conditions around the country require specific formulations in many instances and because perfumes are enormously subjective, we believe we have a menu of choice to satisfy housekeeping and domestic cleaner tastes. Infection control procedures are also included in training programmes for cleaning staff.

Parkside

Ireland's leading Hygiene specialists

Presented by Sales Executive.
Mobile:
email:
parkside@parksideirl.com

Tel: 01 6268342
Fax: 01 6266689
71 Cherry Orchard Ind. Est, Dublin 10.
www.parksideirl.com